

Getting reimbursed by your company

Rearchitecting The Financial System

Option 1: Forward your CFTE invoice to your employer

After you enrol in a course, you will receive an invoice for your course purchase. You can forward this invoice directly to your team for reimbursement. Please reach out at support@cfte.education if you need help for any additional information, such as your company name and address.

Option 2: If you need your manager approval, here is an email template

If you need manager approval, we also provide a reimbursement template that you can forward. Let your manager know you're interested in a course that will improve your work. Highlight how the course can boost company profits through improved skills, efficiency, and productivity. Additionally, show that investing in your development is an investment in the organisation's future success.

Hello [Manager's Name]

I am interested in enrolling in CFTE and Elevandi's Rearchitecting the Financial System course. Led by Programme Director Sopnendu Mohanty, Chief Fintech Officer of MAS, this course teaches the key drivers behind the transformation of finance.

Key Highlights of the program:

- 4 chapters thoughts by senior lecturers covering Digital Infrastructure, Digital Money, Digital Payments and Digital Platforms for SMEs
- 13 experts interviews from AntGroup, Swift, Tencent, BIS, Gates Foundations, UNDP and many more
- 8 case studies to learn the latest uses case in finance
- A certificate of achievement after passing a knowledge test

I will be able to apply knowledge gained during the course and share it with the team, elevating our collective skills.

The course fee is 40$. Attaching the course link for your reference here:
